INDUSTRIAL SOLUTIONS USA

Innovation. Integration. Protection.

I understand you are considering becoming a distributor for Nanovere Technologies. I can assure you the Nano-Clear Industrial formulation is the best of its kind and in the industrial marketplace the physical properties are unmatched. The key advantage is that the NCI is part of a paint system, not a paint replacement. The addition of NCI to existing paint creates a very "tough" protective barrier for the customer. Without exception, all prospective customers I have presented the product to have been impressed with Nano-Clear.

Nanovere has supported me in all areas – sales, marketing and technical. I have not had any problems with shipments of Nano-Clear.

If you decide to become a distributor and work with NCI you will be impressed with how well it performs in severe service environments. You will find many applications for the product but allow me to suggest that in the beginning you focus on applications that are in your main area(s) of expertise.

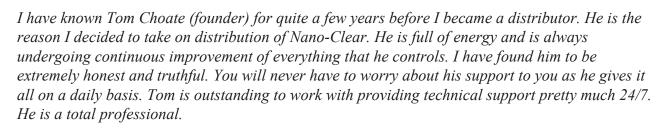

I hope this information is helpful. Please let me know if I can provide additional information.

I have never had any issues on delivery of product. It is always good to provide updates on future sales to Nanovere so they can best meet your delivery schedules, but never an issue. Technical support is outstanding, you can text, email or call Nanovere pretty much anytime and will get the information that you need.

Our main product issues is customers that do not follow proper preparation for application of the coating. It is very important to provide very good initial assistance and stress preparation. I would also recommend that you be present at the first coating that a customer performs to ensure they follow procedures.

I know you will thoroughly enjoy working with Tom and the Nanovere team. You have made a very wise decision.
